

Energy Efficiency Cost-Effectiveness Testing in Washington, D.C.

Washington, D.C. is using the National Standard Practice Manual framework to improve its current practice in order to better align with the NSPM core principles. See NSPM review process case studies here.

Use the Database of Screening Practices \(DSP\) to view state energy efficiency cost-effectiveness testing practices and guidance documents.